

YES or NO

- ___ 1. Is the seven-headed, ten horned, beast mentioned elsewhere?
(Revelation 17:3; Daniel 7:1-8)
- ___ 2. Did both Israel and the Roman Empire persecute Christians?
- ___ 3. Is there any likeness or connection between the dragon and the beasts?
- ___ 4. Just as the "leopard" beast had features of likeness to the previous beasts representing Daniel's four kingdoms, (Dan. 7) so the Roman Empire had characteristics of the Babylonian, Persian, and Grecian empires.
- ___ 5. Was there a pagan element within the Roman empire that also persecuted Christians? (See Acts 16:20-21; 17:6-7; 18:13)

[Note: Pagan priests and pagan worshipers in the Roman Empire accused the Christians of being "heathens" because they didn't worship Caesar and the many Roman-Greek gods.]

- ___ 6. Does the two-horned beast give life to the image of the first beast?
- ___ 7. Do you believe the miracles claimed by the lamb-like beast true?
- ___ 8. Is the man "666" definitely identified for us today in this chapter?
- ___ 9. Could the saints living at the time John wrote this have any means that could help them to know who was meant by 666?

[Note: The Christians would not participate in emperor worship and burn incense; this worked great hardships on them and deprived them of many areas of employment, and privileges.]

TRUE OR FALSE

- ___ 1. The dragon (Satan) defeated (12:9) has given the world no more trouble.
- ___ 2. The power/authority of the dragon was exercised by both beasts in this lesson.
- ___ 3. The statement in v.10, "Here is patience" is a bright ray of sunshine in this chapter. The saints know that God is just and will deal with his enemies himself, it is not in their hands.
- ___ 4. Many commentaries identify Nero as the probably man who was identified as "666" to the readers of the first century.

[Note: v.2: Daniel identifies this beast who does the Dragon's bidding in Dan_7:7 ff. Dan_7:23; Dan_8:9; as the fourth empire, Rome.]
